

Healthy Fit recalls Cookies & Cream Protein Bars because allergens are not declared in English

Healthy Fit is recalling Cookies & Cream Protein Bars because they contain milk and soya which are not mentioned in English on the label. This means the product is a possible health risk for anyone with an allergy or intolerance to milk or milk constituents and/or an allergy to soya. The products are sold in Lidl stores in Northern Ireland.

Our advice to consumers

If you have bought the above product and have an allergy or intolerance to milk or milk constituents and/or an allergy to soya, do not eat it. Instead return it to the store from where it was bought for a full refund (with or without a receipt).

About allergy alerts

Sometimes there will be a problem with a food product that means it should not be sold. Then it might be 'withdrawn' (taken off the shelves) or 'recalled' (when customers are asked to return the product). Sometimes foods have to be withdrawn or recalled if there is a risk to consumers because the allergy labelling is missing or incorrect or if there is any other food allergy risk. When there is a food allergy risk, the FSA will issue an Allergy Alert.
