

Privacy notice for approved meat establishments and applications for approval

Information on our privacy notice for approved meat establishments and establishments applying to operate as approved meat establishments in the UK, why we require personal information, what we do with it and your rights.

The Food Standards Agency will be what is known as the 'Controller' of the personal information provided to us.

Purpose and lawful basis for processing

The personal information we may hold on you consists of:

- The name and address of your business and your contact details;
- The name and address of suppliers/ hauliers and their contact details;
- Declared relevant offences.

We obtain this information from a number of sources, including direct from applications for approval, industry bodies, local authorities and other government departments.

We need to collect the information primarily for:

- Setting up application accounts;
- Communicating with applicants and businesses about the approval process;
- Processing and administering approvals.

We process this personal information in order to fulfil our statutory obligations under Regulation (EU) No 2017/625 in Northern Ireland, or as retained in UK law for England and Wales in relation to feed and food official controls, animal health and animal welfare rules. We process declared offence data in order to meet regulatory requirements in relation to unlawful acts.

We may also analyse this information along with other information we hold about you and information we have obtained from public and/or private sources for the purpose of helping us evaluate risk, including obtaining information from public available sources such as websites and making use of web scraping software.

We do this in line with the exercise of official authority vested in us under the Food Standards Act and the performance of a task carried out in the public interest.

We will not collect any personal data from you which we do not need.

How and where we store your data and who we may share it with

We retain personal information only for as long as necessary to carry out these functions, and in line with our retention policy. This means that this information will be retained for the duration of the approval and for 10 years after closure of an establishment.

The name and address of any approved meat establishments are published on the Find open data website.
