

One week to go until the FSA Social Science Symposium

The events offer an excellent opportunity for anyone in the social science community to hear about how social science directly informs real life policy making in a government context.

As well as learning about the work and priorities of the FSA, and discussing ideas, you can network with experts from academia, industry and policy throughout the event.

We'll be showcasing the breadth of social science in the Agency, covering the latest research on flagship programmes as well as discussing how we are applying innovative methodologies and behavioural change techniques.

To check out the agenda for each event and to book, see the links below.

London - 5 November 2018

Cardiff - 12 November 2018

Belfast - 13 November 2018

Places are limited.