

Top in Town Foods recalls various Mayil products because of incorrect allergen labelling

Top in Town Foods is recalling various Mayil products because of incorrect allergen labelling. Ingredients lists do not correctly identify crustaceans, fish, mustard or sesame as allergens. This means the products are a possible health risk for anyone with an allergy to crustaceans, fish, mustard or sesame.

Our advice to consumers

If you have bought the above products do not eat them. Instead, return them to the store where you bought them.

About allergy alerts

Sometimes there will be a problem with a food product that means it should not be sold. Then it might be 'withdrawn' (taken off the shelves) or 'recalled' (when customers are asked to return the product). Sometimes foods have to be withdrawn or recalled if there is a risk to consumers because the allergy labelling is missing or incorrect or if there is any other food allergy risk. When there is a food allergy risk, the FSA will issue an Allergy Alert.
