

Beta on food.gov.uk

The 'beta' label means you're looking at the first version of a new service or web page. During the beta phase services are continually tested and improved.

The beta label is displayed on a new service to show it's being tested - it may not work for everyone.

Redesigned services should be easier to use than the services they replace.

Our beta service will be available at the same time as an older, existing service - you can choose which one to use.

Successful beta services eventually become 'live' and replace any older services that perform the same task.

Our email and sms subscription service

We would like you to subscribe to our new service to receive news, consultations and food and allergy alerts by email and sms. As this is a new beta service there could be technical issues found with the new service.