Risk statement

The products were temporarily produced in unhygienic conditions at a manufacturing site operated by another company and may be unfit for human consumption.

Action taken by the company

Sweetland Ltd is recalling the above products and has issued a recall notification letter to all its customers.

Our advice to consumers

If you have bought any of the above products do not eat them. Instead, return to the store from where they were bought for a full refund.

About product recalls and withdrawals

If there is a problem with a food product that means it should not be sold, then it might be 'withdrawn' (taken off the shelves) or 'recalled' (when customers are asked to return the product). The FSA issues Product Withdrawal Information Notices and Product Recall Information Notices to let consumers and local authorities know about problems associated with food. In some cases, a 'Food Alert for Action' is issued. This provides local authorities with details of specific action to be taken on behalf of consumers.
