FOOD STANDARDS AGENCY NORTHERN IRELAND CONSULTATION
Title: The Animal Feed (Basic Safety Standards) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2018

CONSULTATION SUMMARY PAGE

Date launched: 2 October 2017  Closing date: 13 November 2017

Who will this consultation be of most interest to?
Producers and users of animal feedingstuffs in Northern Ireland.
Enforcement officers responsible for the enforcement of the Regulations in this sector.

What is the subject of this consultation?
The draft Animal Feed (Basic Safety Standards) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2018 provide for the provisions of a revised EU Basic Safety Standards Directive laying down basic safety standards for the protection against the dangers arising from exposure to ionising radiation as it applies to animal feed. In particular -

- prohibit the intentional addition of radioactive substances in the production of animal feedingstuffs;
- prohibit the import or export of animal feedingstuffs to which radioactive substances have been intentionally added during production; and
- provide the accompanying enforcement powers to deal with non-compliance.

What is the purpose of this consultation?
To give stakeholders the opportunity to comment on the draft Regulations and to ascertain whether our assumption that the introduction of the Regulations will be cost-neutral is correct.

Responses to this consultation should be sent to:

DETAIL OF CONSULTATION

Key proposal(s):

- To prohibit the intentional addition of radioactive substances in the production of animal feedingstuffs.
- To prohibit the import or export of animal feedingstuffs to which radioactive substances have, during production, been intentionally added.
- To refer to existing enforcement mechanisms providing appropriate sanctions for breach of the Regulations.

Details

1. Directive 2013/59/EURATOM lays down basic safety standards for protection against the dangers arising from exposure to ionising radiation. The provision relating to animal feed is Article 21(1) which states:

   “Member States shall prohibit the deliberate addition of radioactive substances in the production of foodstuffs, animal feedingstuffs, and cosmetics, and shall prohibit the import or export of such products.”

2. The proposed regulation provides for the transposition of the requirement as it relates to animal feedingstuffs into law in Northern Ireland and includes reference to existing enforcement mechanisms and provisions.

Background

   - Existing public exposure situations, including the management of legacy radioactive contaminated land and exposure to naturally occurring radon gas in homes;
   - Planned exposure situations, in relation to authorised activities involving radioactive substances, for example for power generation or healthcare; and
• Emergency exposure situations that could arise for example following an accident.

4. Within these sections the Directive also includes a requirement specifically prohibiting the addition of radioactive substances in the production of foodstuffs, animal feedingstuffs and cosmetics.

5. Consideration of the need to amend food law to implement this Article concluded that there was already adequate protection afforded by the Food Safety (Northern Ireland) Order 1991 - in particular paragraphs 7 (rendering food injurious to health) and 14 (selling food not of the nature or substance or quality demanded). However, it was considered that a transposition of the Directive was required for animal feedingstuffs.

Impact Assessment

6. The FSA is not aware that the feed industry currently adds radioactive materials to animal feedingstuffs at any stage and therefore does not consider that there will be any costs incurred in the implementation of the Regulations, either by Government, enforcement authorities or the feed industry.

7. Enforcement sanctions will be consistent with those provided to enforcement authorities by existing animal feed Regulations.

8. Therefore it is considered that an Impact Assessment will not be required.

Information we are seeking in this consultation:

Q1. We would welcome your comments on the proposal to specifically prohibit the intentional addition of radioactive substances to animal feedingstuffs during their production and prohibit the import or export of animal feedingstuffs to which radioactive substances have been intentionally added during their production

Q2. We would welcome any comments on the proposed enforcement provisions.

Q3. We would welcome your comments on the conclusion that the proposals will not cause additional costs to the feed industry or to enforcement authorities.

Consultation Process

9. The purpose of this consultation is to provide interested parties with the opportunity to comment on, and express their opinions on the proposed new legislation as it relates to animal feed and to ensure our assumption that the Regulations will be cost-neutral is correct.

Consumer engagement
10. A Consumer representative is included on the list of interested parties.

Groups affected
11. All producers of animal feed may potentially be affected by the proposed change.
   The proposal will also affect enforcement bodies and others with an interest in animal feed.

Responses
12. Responses are required by close 13 November 2017. Please state, in your response, whether you are responding as a private individual or on behalf of an organisation/company (including details of any stakeholders your organisation represents).

Thank you on behalf of the Food Standards Agency in Northern Ireland for participating in this public consultation.

Yours sincerely,
